GRASSROOTS

What are grassroots, anyway? A town? A school? Friends? Or isn't it something deep inside always reminding us of who we are? Here in our little town, grassroots encompass all of these and many more.

Our roots stem back to our "small town" childhood where morals were high, work was expected, and good times abundant. These standards soon intermingled with our own ideals helping us to learn the fundamentals of life. It takes a lot of effort on an individuals part to finally come to that point in which he can truly enjoy life and make the best of it when times are rough. Having the background we do, this will most definitely help us in acquiring this goal.

So, no matter how far we travel ... a mile ... two miles ... a thousand miles, we will always remember the place in which we grew up. This historic town we call home, and a beautiful brick building we refer to as

Down At The Depot

. . . there was plenty of food, fun, and friends along with that familiar festive atmosphere found only at the "depot" on Railroad Day. Rapidly becoming a local tradition, the celebration managed to draw families home to Main Street where it gave them a glimpse of the roots of Appomattox culture. The festival is an essential tool in preserving our heritage and presenting it to the young people of a growing town that has found such considerations sidetracked by society's ever-accelerating locomotion.

Saturday rain clouds may have been low, but spirits remained high as the parade got under way. The crowd bunched up under umbrellas, porches, doorways, in cars, or any place that offered cover and a view.

The air was filled with sounds of guitar strings, vocal "chords," and microphonic malfunctions (feedback) and with aromas of Brunswick stew, popcorn, and submarine sandwiches. Then Sunday's bright sun doubled the crowd, revived Main Street, and, finally, set on the eventful Fifth Annual Railroad Festival "down at the depot."

Miss Heising gets a taste of cotton candy from Patsy Butler. The crowd at the depot enjoys a leisurely Sunday afternoon of sunshine, music, and good company.

One of the qualities of becoming mature is being able to accept responsibility. Here in "grassroots" country, when we take on a job there is a lot of responsibility involved. We may have different types of jobs that include a variety of duties, but each specific task helps prepare us for our future.

Through jobs we not only gain a few more dollars but by learning to work with others and acquiring job skills, we gain experience which undoubtedly will prove helpful in our future. Whether it be in the field of business, mechanics or agriculture, earnings are abundant; however, in the long run experience proves to be more important.

STUDENT LIFE

It would be rather difficult to be a part of this school and not see and feel the results of living in a small, agricultural community. Even if you tried, it would be hard not to get caught up in its originality. Being located in the middle of acres of rolling farmland doesn't limit our school curriculum or social activities — it just makes them unique.

Life Continues After 3:05

Spending five days a week in school doesn't confine us to our homes or even our hometown. After sundown (especially on weekends) thoughts of school are far away — and spinning the Queen or just riding through town offers the opportunity to see what's going down.

Our roots stem back to when we were young kids and our parents took us to Holliday Lake where we learned to swim. We still go to Holliday Lake but now for different reasons ... to show off our swimsuits, get a tan, or in hopes of seeing someone "special".

As time passes, there are going to be more places that we will go that will take us out of range of our roots. But no matter how far we go, we will always remember where our roots began ... here in Appomattox.

Dancing the Night Away!

October 21st showed itself to be an exceptionally exciting day, not only because it fell on a Friday, but because it was designated on the school calendar as Homecoming '77.

Emotions were further intensified when students were evacuated and left to stand on the practice field while police searched the building for possible traces of a bomb. After the threat was proven false, classes reassembled although accomplishing any work seemed next to impossible.

Homecoming festivities got into full swing with the start of the pep rally which provided a needed release of energy after an explosive day. Then, under blue skies, Raider spirit marched through the town in the form of a parade.

By 8:00 the Raiders were in gear, and ready to ring Liberty's bell in front of the crowd at Bragg Stadium. And this they did as they trounced over the Minutemen 33-6, interrupted only by the halftime show when Karen Gillaspie was crowned Homecoming Queen. Good times rolled on as students and alumnae danced to the tune of The Royal Kings.

Just another Homecoming? No way. It was Homecoming '77 even more special when Seniors realized that they'd played their last high school game at Bragg Stadium and that next year they'd be alumnae, coming home to A.C.H.S.

Touchdown!

John Rothgeb gains ground to keep the Raiders ahead, assisted by the blocks of Jay, Monroe, and John.

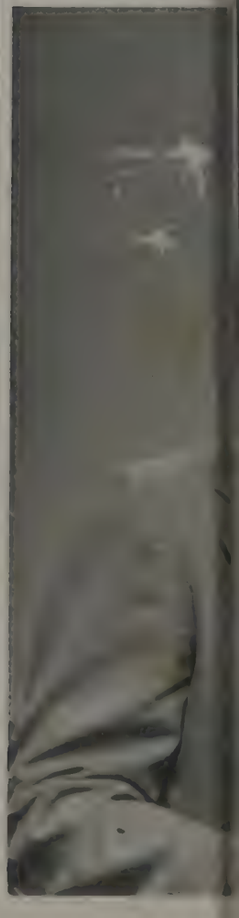
Big Mac: Order of the Day



The role of a high school administrator must be one of the most trying, demanding, yet rewarding professions a person could get involved in. Qualities characteristic of such a leader should include understanding, patience, loyalty to the cause of education, and, maybe most importantly, a sense of humor.

The individual who could fill those boots would obviously be of unique character. It takes more than a college certificate or a master's degree in school law — it takes years of dedication and determination. On top of this, the administrator needs to earn the acceptance and respect of the student body.

Our school is able to boast of such a man who is not simply an employee but one of the roots of what makes us what we are. With his feet firmly established in Raider Country after 19 years, we feel that Mr. John McLean deserves more than the title of assistant principal — he's our, "Where-would-we-be-without-him man."

For this reason and for all that you have done for A.C.H.S. students (those past and those to come), for all the time you've freely given, and most significantly, for instilling in us a feeling of self-worth, we proudly and respectfully present this book to you and say, "Thanks, Mr. Mac."

When we came to the high school, we were confronted with a great burst of spirit. As we grew, our spirit grew. When we clap, yell, and stomp our feet, it's for a reason. That reason being, when our attention is focused on our teams, we epitomize the spirit or the word victory. Some of us have more spirit than others, but combined, we boost the morale of our Raiders and Raiderettes to victory.

Some have got it and some don't.

Fans look on with anticipation.

"Hey Johna, the net is the other way."

Sideline suspense.

Rodney Lawson says, "look, I'm Tarzan."

His body, almost miraculously follows as if in answering. Dressing to suit the frostbitten air and ground, he wonders a moment, why? But as soon as he is into nature and watching the morning break the blue-gray sky and brush the horizon with her warm parting glow he then instinctively realizes why. He is now part of nature.

Patiently, he waits for that rustling sound, the warm smell or that quick glance that will give him a chance at his prize of pride. Knowing that the prize will be appreciated at home and that it is a necessary link in nature, he feels proud and satisfield.

If he is lucky, tonight he will entertain the others with the story of his conquest.

Glen aims toward a good shot.

Rocky, Star Wars, Smokey and the Bandit, and They'd Hang You In Nashville. What do these four titles have in common? They all were box office supers well, almost. At any rate, one of them took Appomattox County High by storm—They'd Hang You In Nashville. Yes folks, that number one rated play was presented on November 10 and 11 by high school students at ACHS.

Kurt Greenbaum, a freshman at ACHS, capably played the role of Stan. Willis Fleshman, veteran to acting, portrayed the witty Bob. Speaking of Bob's, there was also Bobbi Jo who was always speaking (similar to her female portrayer, Tamara Nash.) Molly Handy as Sally and Darell Puckett as the everloving Ernie Grelling along with Bessie Hash, David Williams, Mark Paulette, Sherry Maxwell and helped create a show well worth appearing at Appomattox County High. And so folks, drama sponsor Joyce Sweet once again eagerly waits at home for her oscar as the Drama Club chalks up another big hit.

I'll make you guys an offer you can't refuse.

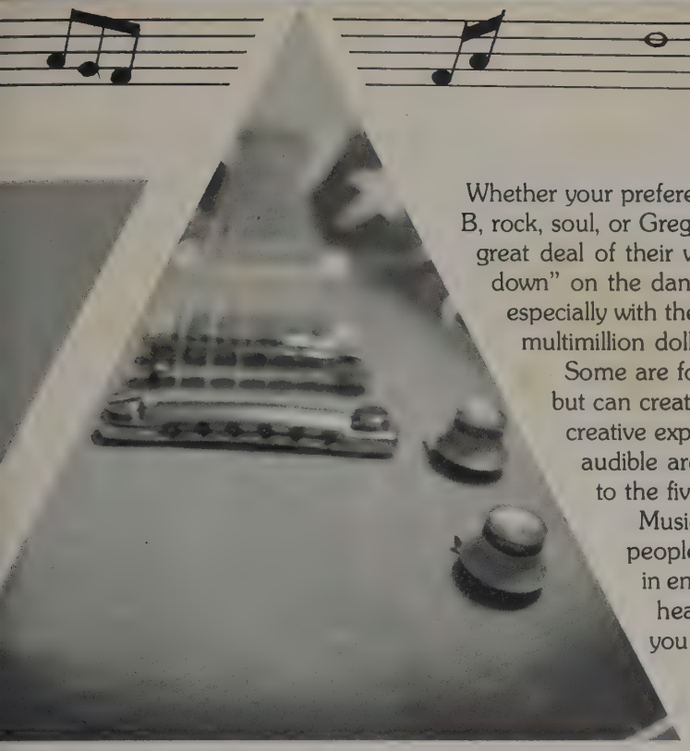
FLEETWOOD MAC



Whether your preference be bluegrass, classical, country, disco, folk, jazz, opera, R & B, rock, soul, or Gregorian chants, you are probably one of the millions who spend a great deal of their waking hours listening to or otherwise enjoying music. "Gettin' down" on the dance floor has become one of America's most popular pastimes; especially with the recent surge of disco and a return to "structured" dances. The multimillion dollar music industry is evidence of our gusto for song.

Some are fortunate enough not only to be able to enjoy music by listening, but can create it as well. This ability has served as an outlet for emotion and creative expression for centuries. The instruments used to make these ideas audible are as varied as the thoughts themselves: from the human voice to the five-string banjo which had its origin here in Appomattox County.

Music is truly an art form "of the people, by the people, and for the people". It's readily available, doesn't have to cost much, and comes in enough varieties to please everyone. So go to a dance. Put on some headphones. Sit down at that old, neglected piano and see what you can do. Just "make your own kind of music".

We've Come A Long Way With FFA

We've come a long way with FFA. Vocational Agriculture implements of nearly fifty years ago as decorations carried out this theme. The FFA nominated over thirty girls for sweetheart but by the evening of the dance the original field had been reduced to only four girls. Each class had a representative with Nancy Stratton, Kathy Johnson, Tina Doss and Jayne Doss in the running, with Robin Moore, Donald Parris, Terry Almond and Skebo Ferguson, respectively, as escorts.

"'TIS THE SEASON"

Christmas '77—parties, presents, caroling ect., all helped to make it that very special part of the year, in which a child-like magic seemed to overtake the old as well as the young. School was no exception; days were filled with special programs and sneaked in parties, plain brown doors turned into enlarged Christmas cards, and of course everyone was waiting for "Santa" to make his yearly appearance.

Christmas, being a special time of the year, made studying harder and harder as that much anticipated "last day" got closer. Who could study with "visions of sugar plums dancing in our heads" anyway?

Christmas day finally came and, in a state of regression, we found ourselves hurrying to see what "Santa" had left for his good little ACHS boys and girls. As the day came to a close we knew that soon our beautiful Christmas tree would be firewood, and our new presents would soon be old, we kept our cheer by realizing that Christmas like "Frosty" is magic and will return again next year.

began like an afterthought. The culmination of the frenzied bicentennial year left us rudely hungover on what was, at best, a year of mediocrity and sadness.

On the political scene, America stood up for human rights, and sat by and watched as major efforts for peace began in the Middle East. At home, Jimmy Carter pushed for an energy bill and Congress energetically disapproved. He pulled for Howell as governor—and Virginia chose Dalton. After Carter plowed his way into Virginian politics, hundreds of striking tractors plowed into Plains. In this year of anti-climax scandals didn't seem quite as scandalous. Burt Lance, however, was run out of Washington squealing, while Tongsun Park squealed on some in Washington.

The entertainment world suffered acutely with the deaths of a startling number of old and familiar favorites. Christmas will never be quite as white without Bing; nor will Auld Lang Syne be seasoned with that special Lombardo touch. While the foundations of rock were severely shaken with the loss of "Elvis, The King", lovers of slapstick smarted at the losses of Groucho Marx and Charlie Chaplin.

In the world of pop music, "Dreams" of a "Brick House" left many in "Heaven on the 7th Floor". At the cinema, two of the biggest box office hits, "Star Wars" and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" centered around outer space. "Oh, God" cracked many up, while "You Light Up My Life" was generally considered a let down.

At school, button down collars, shetland sweaters and stickpins compiled a look that could almost have been considered "preppie".

Memories of Sherry McGuire and Dawn Rosser

The warm smiles that spread across their faces brightened everyone's day. The love and cheer that followed them everywhere they went has warmed the hearts of everyone who knew them.

Sherry McGuire was a person who always listened to other people's problems, even when she had her own. She never thought twice about doing everything she could for anybody. She had some bad times, but more good ones because she loved and shared of herself with all those who were close to her. Some of us may feel that we never really gave her anything, but I know that the greatest gift we ever gave her or she ever gave us was simply the love of a friend.

A Best Friend

Dawn Rosser was a friend who was so full of life and happiness it just naturally spread to all those around her. She was someone we could really count on because we knew she really cared. Because of what she shared with us, she has left us with many happy, special memories. And we will never forget her friendly, smiling face.

The grass-roots of any school are the people who make it up, and the whole purpose of a yearbook centers around those people. On September 1, 1966, the Class of '78 was made up of a bunch of 6-year-olds more concerned with hopscotch, jump ropes, monkey bars, and teeter-totters than with the new experience called school. We've come a long way since then after spending about 12,960 hours toward the cause of education. Now that we are young adults, we realize how much those twelve years mean to us and that A.C.H.S. will always be our cherished alma mater.

ADMINISTRATORS . . .

At it again are Mr. Lloyd Walton, Mr. Richard Carter, Mrs. Jean Hesson, Mr. Daniel Davis and the remaining members of the Appomattox County School Administration who all take part in running the school system smoothly and successfully.

As superintendent, Mr. Lloyd Walton has been responsible for knowing everyones job, counseling teachers, and coordinating activities here in Appomattox. Mr. Richard Carter holds the title of Director of Vocational Education. Mrs. Jean Hesson serves as General Supervisor, and Mr. Daniel Davis is the Title I Coordinator. The secretaries also perform a vital part in making the school system a success.

Mr. Lloyd Walton

MAKING IT WORK

Mr. Donald Armentrout

Mr. Donald Armentrout is back for his second year as principal here at A.C.H.S. With him, he has brought more determination and effort to run the school efficiently and with as few conflicts as possible.

Although Mr. John McLean's title is assistant principal, his job is working with people. This year, along with the principal and other senior class sponsors, he has helped the seniors in their effort to raise enough money to go to Florida on their class trip. In his spare time, Mr. McLean plays golf or goes fishing.

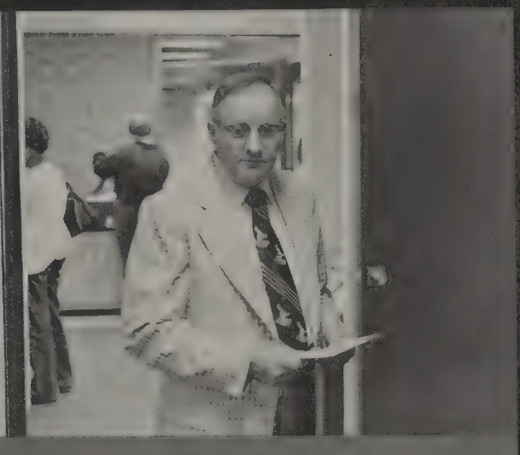
Outside school you might find Mrs. Florence Hix gardening, reading, or knitting, in school her life is entirely different. If she's not typing, filing, reading announcements over the P.A. system, or running an errand, you might find her doing one of the other ten million things a fulltime secretary does.

Back for a second year of secretarial work is Mrs. Kathryn Nash, who is essential in running the office. Not only does she enjoy working with A.C.H.S. students, she also enjoys working with girl scouts. At home, she sews, cooks, and uses her "green thumb" on her flowers and plants.

Mr. Armentrout tries his hand at art.



Mr. John McLean

"What 'cha need?" asks Mrs. Hix as she peeps over her glasses.

Mrs. Florence Hix Mrs. Kathryn Nash

Mrs. Archer and Mrs. Stubblefield discuss matters of importance.

Nurse, May Shorter does a lot of paperwork.

A Longwood graduate Linda Archer is a newcomer to the guidance field as well as being a newcomer here. Mrs. Archer counsels ninth graders. Doing a great job as our new SCA sponsor is Joyce Jamerson. She loves her new job beause she comes in contact with more students.

Harriet James is known as a friend to all, especially within the senior class. Mrs. James is responsible for the Career Council as one of the sponsors.

What does a guidance secretary do? In Elaine Stubblefields case, it's everything from typing transcripts to being a nurse's "understudy".

Hattie Hayes is enjoying her eighth year of being librarian. She likes to travel, read, and talk to others.

Woodrow Wallis, better known as Major Wallis, is as busy outside of school playing "Old McDonald" on his 350-acre farm as in school.

As a third year teacher of EMR's, Bettye Williams is very fond of her students. Her spare time is spent trying new recipes and reading.

Located in a sunny place in the school, Mrs. Ford, the TMR teacher, finds her job both challenging and rewarding. "What's in a name," former Miss Heising, kind of likes her new one — congratulations Mrs. Ford.

Ann Robinson, who has four children of her own, fits the part of aide for the special education students. Mrs. Robinson is definitely Mrs. Ford's "right-hand person."

Besides teaching art and sponsoring the art club, Wendy Richardson stays busy with night art classes and as a member of the Eastern Star organization.

Dividing his time between the Middle School and this school, Frank Coffey teaches the band class. Mr. Coffey stays busy out of school with his own group "The Frank Coffey Quartet."

Teresa Quesenberry, is our talented chorus teacher. Although music strikes a big note in her life — she pursues other interests such as photography, needlework, and four-wheeling.

What is it that has captured Mrs. Alvis' and Mrs. McCraw's attention?

Mrs. McCraw grades papers during her planning period.

A senior class sponsor and English teacher is Harriette Beasley who has put in nine years in the county school system. Mrs. Beasley keeps her classes busy by saying, "Okay, let's not talk and let's get to work." Sponsor of The Traveler yearbook staff, where she occasionally plays sergeant-in-arms, Brenda Waldron also has the job of introducing the works of such men as Sophocles and Franz Kafka to her 12th grade students. A creative person, Miss Waldron is an accomplished artist and enjoys photography, play direction, and trips to Elon College workshops with her crew.

As an English 11 teacher, Edwina Covington's devotion to American literature doesn't end at 3:05. Like the early pioneers in the works of James Fennimore Cooper, Mrs. Covington brings home the venison for the table, her first deer being killed in the '77 season.

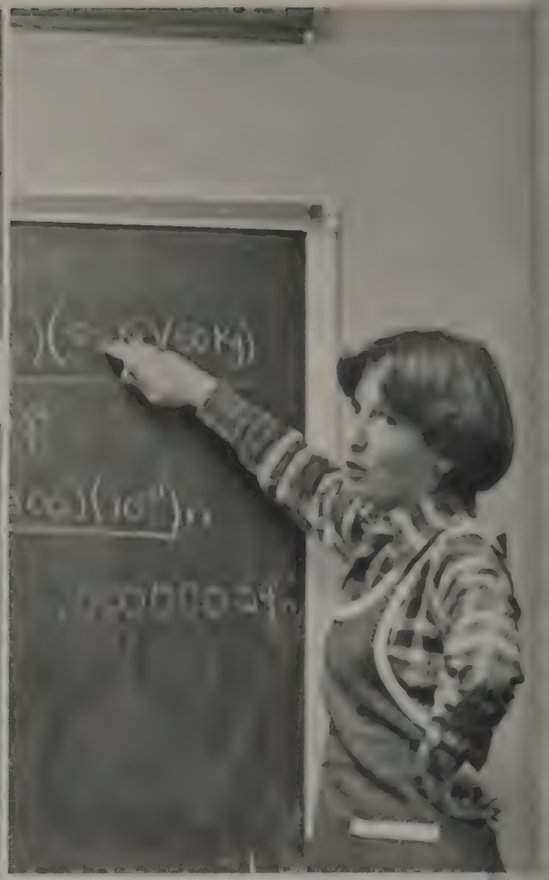
After student-teaching here last year, Ruth Cowan returned with a degree from Longwood to teach English 10 and 11. Mrs. Cowan enjoys playing golf and bridge, and also reading, especially the works of Benjamin Franklin. As a ninth and tenth grade English teacher, Linda Taylor spends most of her time teaching her students grammar, sentence structure, and vocabulary. But Mrs. Taylor's spare time is spent on the tennis court where she works at becoming another Chris Everet.

Being a sponsor of the Raider Reporter isn't the only duty Estaline McCraw performs. She also carries out the duties of a ninth grade English teacher . . . teaching students how to use good grammar and a wider range of adjectives and adverbs. At home Mrs. McCraw enjoys cooking and working in her garden. Joyce Sweet, who probably could have been Hollywood's next Liza Minelli chose instead to teach English 10 and journalism. She is also a sponsor of the broadcasting and newspaper staffs, and the drama club which loves to entertain its audiences "downstage".

Roman and Greek mythology, derivatives, basic sentences, and Latin paradigms are all part of Claudine O'Brien's busy day as the Latin teacher. Miss O'Brien, whose middle name should be "travel", has been to Rome about five times and also visited Greece early in the school year for the third time. Even though Marcella McKay is often mistaken for a student, she is definitely a member of the faculty as she teaches all the Spanish classes. Mrs. McKay is also sponsor of the Spanish club.

THE FACULTY . . .

Mr. Hudson checks to see if one of his students is doing what he's suppose. to.



"And this is the method for determining how much force is applied," says Mrs. Turner.

. . . HERE TO EDUCATE US . . .

Best wishes to all your future students. L. Hudson

Anyone who admits, "I like to hear the sound of a sewing machine," is either missing a few stitches or really into homemaking. Gail McGraw, to the advantage of her Home Ec. III and Occ. Cloth. students, is of the latter character.

"A homemaker should be an engineer for the whole family," says Betty Jo Smith, a Home Ec. teacher and FHA sponsor. She enjoys the students and the informal atmosphere of her classes. And in keeping with her basic idea that everyone should have at least one semester of Home Ec., Mrs. Smith finds her new co-ed class, Ind. & Fam. Lg., quite a challenge.

Velma Elliott, the lady behind the apron, is the occupational foods instructor, and teaches Home Ec. III, too. Not only does she like preparing new dishes, but she enjoys traveling as well.

In addition to her role as biology teacher and Tri-Hi-Y sponsor, Nancy Jones is "Grandma" to two whom she adores and probably spoils, as most grandmothers do. Her autumn visit to Hawaii was another fascinating experience.

A member of our school system for five years, Emilia Racer teaches consumer math, Algebra II, and advanced algebra and trig. Mrs. Racer is also a sponsor of the junior class, which weaves lots of work when it comes time for the prom. Formerly of Galax, Vickie Burnette came to ACHS after graduating from Radford to teach biology, advanced algebra and trig. and Math 9. Sponsor of the freshman class, Miss Burnette enjoys tennis, bowling, reading, and movies.

John Hudson may have one of the most important jobs in school—keeping the chemistry classes from blowing up the lab. Mr. Hudson teaches all the chemistry classes and one geometry class, not to mention his duties such as selling game tickets and driving a bus.

As an algebra and physics teacher and co-sponsor of the Nat'l Honor Society, Mary Turner comes in contact with students ranging from freshman to seniors. After Thanksgiving, however, Chesterfield's gained what ACHS's loss when Mrs. Turner had to relocate.

Teaching gen. math 9, algebra IA and IB aren't the only jobs Betty Hancock has. She also sponsors the freshman class. At home Mrs. Hancock enjoys spending time with her two daughters.

Lillian Harbridge is the general math and geometry teacher. When she can find spare time, she enjoys sports, crafts, music, and movies. Coming from Pennsylvania, Miss Hartbridge likes her students accents and thinks that they are well-behaved.

Mrs. Frey puts on her ballet attire for a few dancing steps.

Mary Jane Alvis is a real boost to the business dept. Besides teaching typing and related occupations, she finds the time to co-sponsor the parliamentary law team of the FBLA and to sponsor the majorettes, and was the organizer of the dance-a-thon and rock-a-thon. Mrs. Alvis now has a new house to go along with her new baby.

Training students for work in office occupations is one of Sandra Frey's largest tasks. As a COE ccordinator, she works closely with the community in acquiring paid on-the-job training for seniors enrolled in business education.

Joan Holt, another of the typing and steno teachers, efficiently heads the business department and co-sponsors the FBLA. Mrs. Holt belongs to groups outside of school, too, such as the Young Homemakers, and the United Methodist Women, and now has joined the rank of women addressed as "Mommy".

Graduating from Longwood in 1977, Deborah Robertson is in her first year of teaching. One of the typing and steno instructors, as well as co-sponsor of the parliamentary law team of the FBLA, Miss Robertson says of teaching, "It's okay, but it gets rough at times." Perhaps one has to develop a tolerance for the constant noise of the typewriter.

Lucy Harris stays busy not only as coach of volleyball, girls' J.V. basketball, girls' tennis, and co-sponsor of the varsity club, but also helping her husband on their farm in Evergreen. She has even been seen peeping over the steering wheel of a lumber truck on her way to school.

The P.E. 9 teacher, John (Plicky) Williams, also has three busy coaching seasons with football, J.V. basketball, and boy's tennis. Among other interests are golf and a "sleek" green Thunderbird.

During Mary Libby Tolley's sixth year of teaching P.E. here, she is in charge of girl's varsity basketball and softball. She attended Longwood College and the University of Tennessee for graduate work. Miss "T" enjoys golf and is the proud owner of the only faculty Renegade.

Whether through athletics, geography class, or just walking through the halls, at one time or another, you're bound to come in contact with Coach Jerry Robinson and his unmistakable grin. He also finds times as golf coach, to mold young Arnold Palmers.

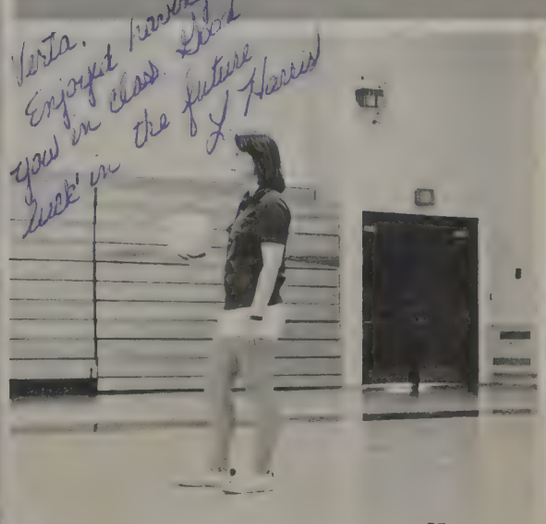
Originally from Youngstown, Ohio, Larry Robinson came to us this year following graduation from Youngstown State Univ. and Marietta College. Mr. Robinson has the full schedule of teaching history, general business, and economics, and is the co-sponsor of the Nat'l Honor Society.

Stuart Justus, head football coach, also heads the weight-lifting program, and teaches history, general business, and sociology. Formerly of Narrows, Va., Coach Justus is the proud father of a future Raider, Scott, who is three years old.

Ray Archer, better known as "Lord Archer", has recently come from William Campbell High School. He teaches history, and is an assistant varsity football coach as well as boy's varsity basketball coach and works with track. Should we ask Coach Archer what he does in his spare time?

What do cross-country, girls' track, government, world geography, and pep rallies have in common? They're all associated in one way or another with Sam Martin who is a very prominent man in our school. Mr. Martin can best be described as a man with a dynamic personality.

Mrs. Harris waits as the other team prepares for her "dynamic" serve.



For a teacher to like sports cars and drag-racing is very unusual, especially when that teacher teaches agricultural science mechanics II. James L. Burcher is your man and the only explanation for his hobby is "different strokes for different folks."

Bobby Waddell, co-sponsor of the FFA, is the ag. production IV and V instructor which often involves getting into coveralls and slopping around with the FFA pigs. A man of the field, stream, and fairway, Mr. Waddell enjoys hunting, fishing, and golfing.

One of the many ag. teachers here is William Perrow who most enjoys teaching seniors. Mr. Perrow has been teaching ag. for 7 years. His outside activities include woodworking, in which he makes a lot of furniture.

Albert Carter, whose name seems to automatically bring to mind agriculture, teaches just that along with ornamental horticulture. Having been associated with ag. since high school, one could say that it is definitely his "thing".

In talking to Calhoun Moore, the new mechanics teacher, one soon finds that although teaching has not been his life-long profession, he possesses a true interest in his students and considers it a challenge. Although his new job requires much of his time, fishing "is still the one" on the top of the list of hobbies.

Pete Almond instructs his students in the masonry course. Very dedicated to his work, he enjoys bricklaying, especially because it involves being out in the fresh air. Whenver he has the chance, Mr. Almond likes to take his family camping and fishing.

An instructor in the challenging area of distributive education, Lorraine Burgess works with the student whose interests lie in employment after high school. This is Mrs. Burgess' first year here at ACHS.

A graduate of E. Ca. University, William Rouse is the newest addition to the electronics dept. Mr. Rouse feels that the best part of teaching electronics, is seeing the expressions on the faces of his students when they discover they're learning a combination of physics, chemistry, and math.

"Who's the new teacher with the shining white teeth under that dark mustache?" Well if you haven't heard by now, he's Harold Brizendine. Mr. Brizendine teaches drafting I and II and sponsors the VICA club. And he doesn't make a bad sub sandwich either!

A daily inspection of brick-laying is made by Pete Almond.

Mr. Hudson joins in on a discussion in Chemistry class.

Typing is one of Mrs. Stubblefield's main duties.

You can bet your bottom dollar that Mr. Scott is as friendly as he looks.

Everyone here performs an important duty and the cooking staff and custodians may very well be said to have the most important duties.

The cooks are responsible for providing a nutritional and well-balanced meal. This isn't easy and very seldom do they satisfy everyone. But . . .

The custodians are held responsible for keeping our school clean and attractive looking. They are always on the job striving to keep A.C.H.S. "looking good".

These members are reliable and devoted, and they do a fine job at helping to run the school.

. . . FOR A BETTER FUTURE

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Activities outside of the regular school curriculum are enjoyed by students who like to involve themselves in extras such as clubs and sports. There are nearly 300 who participate in the sports program and a number of students who are members of a club. These people, along with their coaches and sponsors, devote hours of their after-school time to practice, meetings, and special programs. The time they put in is worthwhile, though, when they care enough to do their best.

Getting In Gear

Phillip Seay, Ronnie Preston, John Hudson, Bobby Harris, R.L. Harris, Robert Dyess, Jay Franklin, James Burks, Walter Mosley, Buddy McFadden, A.J. Ferguson, Phil Paulette, Duane Gilliam, Greg Pugh, Glenn Gilliam.

Although they had to get in their gear every day for the grind of practice and on Friday evenings in anticipation of the big game, the young team didn't really get "in gear" until the season was well under way. Not until then did the Raiders reach their potential with a drive unmatched by other teams.

The season saw its first game miles away against the Covington Cougars where the scoreboard failed to show the tough fight put up by the Raiders. The hard work paid off the following week, though, with a victory over Gretna.

The next few games, except for the Altavista match, proved discouraging for the relatively inexperienced team, still rebuilding after graduation took most of the starters.

After a hard-nose campaign of learning and suffering, Coach Justus' players realized improvements and experience, and grew weary of surrendering. This they proved in the upset of the night against Jefferson Forest, a team with three shutouts to its credit, when the Cavaliers were handed a 22-14 defeat.

Positive attitudes drove the Raiders on to a whopping 33-6 victory over Liberty, adding to the spirit of Homecoming which was also the last home game. Appomattox dominated the game with John Rothgeb's total of 227 yards rushing and a tight defense led by Robert Dyess and R. L. Harris.

An open date coupled with postponment due to rain in the next week threw the Raiders into a slump before their final game of the season. The loss to Amherst marred the record slightly as the team came out 4-5, 4-6 overall, but opponents had discovered that the Raiders are for real!

The team was honored by the Lions Club with a banquet at John Mosby Inn. Chuck Boone athletic director at UR was the guest speaker. Awards were: Andrew Kelso—Most Improved Back; Myron McCoy—Most Improved Lineman, Honorable Mention All-District Defensive End; Ronnie Abernathy—Best Lineman, 1st Team All-District Guard; Jay Franklin—Best Back, Offensive Player of the Year; Robert Dyess—Defensive Player of the Year, Honorable Mention All-District Linebacker, 2nd Team All-Area Guard; Joe Fraley—Raider Award, Honorable Mention All-District QB; Freddie Mitchell—2nd Team All-District Kicker.

John Rothgeb carries the pigskin for the Raiders in his best game of the season when he got 227 of the 343 yards rushing for a big 33-6 victory over Liberty.

Coach Wilkerson watches intently as Coach Archer points out the problem and offers some "patient" instruction.

Totally involved in the game, Coach Justus stoops to get a view at the level of the ball while Duane and Donald wait for their signal to go in.

Joe calls the signals to get the offense going in the middle of Red Devil country.

Coaches Williams, Justus, and Archer look on as the play moves forward. Going into the 3rd quarter down by 4 points, the offense looks for a break.

Now defending the other goal, the Raiders tighten their "D" against Rustburg.

. . . stopped Coach Sam Martin's eager young cross-country team from running its best against far more experienced teams. Not only are other runners to be dealt with, but the elements also play a major part in the outcome of meets. Running in rain, mud, and seemingly arctic temperatures with no more than thin nylon for protection requires special dedication and endurance.

Several changes were made which added spark to each event. A new home course was established—3.7 miles, up hill and down, through a creek, and up another hill affectionately referred to by the team as "the mountain". Another first was the addition of female runners to the team, to which no negative response was audible—except from the girls on occasion!

A solid foundation has been set and will continue to be built upon in cross-country's future. With Mr. Martin's expert assistance, the team can only move ahead!

Setting It Up To Serve The Team

Oct.	20	Liberty	Lost

Co-Captains: Marlene Moore and Marie Fraley

Coach Lucy Harris breathed a little easier at the start of the '77 volleyball season, having four of last year's starters returning to the squad. While the Raiderettes weren't extremely tall, they overcame this by quickness, good serving, spiking, and setting, and—most of all—teamwork and a "never die" attitude.

The Raiderettes lost the last game of the season to Liberty, giving them an 8-1 record. The team was up and ready for the tournament, but all hopes were shattered when they were defeated by Altavista in the first game of the tournament.

Along with excellent teamwork, there was a lot of individual talent on the Raiderette team: four Raiderettes made the All-District team. Marie Fraley, first team; Connie Murray, second team; and Roxie Martin and Vanessa Smith were named to honorable mention.

Individual team awards were received by Connie Murray (Most Valuable Player) and Vanessa Smith (Most Improved Player).

Congratulations to all the Raiderettes.

JV Raiderettes Aim For Experience

The girls' JV basketball program is only in its second season, but has already sent players to the Varsity squad who would have had no experience if not for the establishment of the team last year. While aiming for experience, the young team also managed to pull off some important victories.

Johnna and Pam watch the ball closely in hopes that it will make its way through the hoop.

Once again the Raiderettes lacked height, but they did have a little more experience than before. The first half of the season proved to be tough for the Raiderettes but they started to settle down to business in the second.

Five seniors made up the starting line for the Raiderettes, with Marlene Moore as center, Roxie Martin and Marie Fraley as forwards, and Connie Murray and Roni Franklin as guards.

Coach Mary Tolley had a strong bench to fall back on when tough situations came up. There she could find good shooters and defensive players, hustlers and more height, or a combination of these necessary traits.

The Raiderettes were agressive and really moved whether the scoreboard showed the team losing ground or with the game all wrapped up.

Marie sends the "Spalding" up between two Gretna defenders. Left: Annette leaps for control of the ball in the Raiderettes' match with Jefferson Forest.

At Each End Of The Gym

The successful team has spirit even on the bench. Here, ~~Annette~~ and Vanessa find it impossible to remain seated during all the excitement.

The Hottest Shots In Town

The Varsity basketball team began the season pleasing the fans by defeating Buckingham, Gretna, William Campbell, and Nelson without a loss. Although considered inexperienced with no surviving players from last year's starting lineup, they proved their worth.

Coach Archer's young team had only one senior, with the rest of the team being made up of juniors, sophomores, and two freshmen. Larry Kelso, a sophomore starter, early established himself as high-scorer for the Raiders and will be a definite advantage for two more years. Coach Archer anticipates, with a little work on offense, success in '79 after a profitable '78 season with good leaders such as the co-captains, Joe Fraley and Gerald Booker.

One of the freshmen on the squad Shane takes an outside shot.

JV Raiders On The Rebound

The JV Raiders gained control of the game early in the season and came away with some impressive victories. Assets such as experience, good size, and some sharp shooting contributed to the team's accomplishments. The tri-captains—Terry Woods, Darrell Schrock, and Phil Paulette—along with Ronnie Robinson and William Scott made up the first string and will be good candidates for the Varsity squad next year.

The Student Cooperative Association Council

OFFICERS OF THE SCA are Robin Moore, Treasurer; A.J. Johnson, President; Tommy Williams, Chaplain; Kim Hipps, Parliamentarian; Tamara Nash, Secretary; Cindy Roach, Vice-President; Sharon Eggleston, Reporter.

THE STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION of ACHS is under new sponsorship this year after the resignation of Mrs. Michael Penn. A guidance counselor, Mrs. Joyce Jamerson, along with Miss Lil Harbridge have taken on the co-sponsorship of one of the most vital organizations in the school—the SCA. The SCA council is made up of elected officers and club representatives and they meet at least once a month to plan SCA activities. These activities include everything from student orientation on the first day of school to planning and publishing student handbooks to the "Fantastic" Homecoming dance. This year the SCA brought "The Royal Kings" to the ACHS cafeteria for one of the best dances of the year.

The SCA is designed to strengthen basic human relations—with peers, adults, and each other, to practice involvement in what goes on at ACHS, and to work in school and community projects. The SCA is the one organization through which the entire school can channel their ideas and suggestions on what they'd like ACHS to be.

In 1977-78, the SCA sponsored students to the Presidential Classroom, sponsored a Christmas Dance and assemblies, plus other various activities but most of all, they strengthen the bond between the students and faculty, between ACHS and the community, and between ACHS and you.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America

VICA Officers

Sub Shop Great Attraction At Railroad Day

As you all know Vocational Industrial Clubs of America or (VICA) is a worldwide organization. Here at ACHS our VICA organization is rather large. There are many activities involved in VICA such as: meeting for election of District Officers which was held Oct. 19, 1977, fund raising activities, basketball tournaments, and our District III contest for those who would like to go. Anyone who goes to the District III contest and takes first place will get to go to the State contest in April.

In the District III contest each section, Drafting, Electronics, Bricklaying, and Power Mechanics will compete against other schools to find out what skills a person may know. Each section has a time limit in which to complete the contest. They have other activities also such as: small engine contests, bricklaying displays, talent shows, etc. Those who went to the contest really know how much fun it really is.

Our officers for VICA are as follows: President, Duane Hogan; Vice Pres., Brenda Bowling; Treasurer, Kelvin Jones; Sec., Rodney Lawson; Reporter, Richard Hamlett; SCA Representative, Robin Moore, and with our advisors we have made VICA a rather strong organization for ACHS.

Distributive Education

Distributive Conversation

The Appomattox County High School Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is an integral part of its Distributive Education (DE) Program, to which all DE students belong. Through this co-curricular, activity students are taught leadership and learn to regard the field of distribution as a profession.

The clubs program of work includes: development of the ability to work in groups through local meetings, area conferences, and an annual state leadership conference of DECA, social events, an annual employee-employer banquet, participation in community projects and development of school projects to promote good public relations, are also included in DECA's program of work for a year.

Mrs. Burgess serves as the advisor for the ACHS DECA chapter, she encourages students participation in club activities in order to train them to become tomorrow's effective leaders in the business world.

Some of DECA's special activities for the 1977-78 school year include participation in a District Officer's Training Conference, a Fall Rally and Officer Initiation, a Homecoming Corsage Sale and an "Apple Day" during which the DECA members presented each teacher with an apple for American Education Week.

No longer is classroom instruction enough for the development of strong aggressive leadership today in preparation for an active leadership role tomorrow. Through FBLA, members learn how to lead and participate in group discussions, preside at meetings and conferences, work effectively within committees, and engage in practical problem solving and decision making. Members learn the value of competition on local, district, regional and national levels by experiencing the responsibility of success as well as the challenge of defeat. Through contact with teachers, advisors, employers, and interested business persons, FBLA members develop confidence in their own abilities . . . and learn that to develop them to their fullest is a personal responsibility as well as an organizational goal.

Senior Raiders and Raiderettes

THE VARSITY CLUB is one of the most privileged clubs to be a part of. It is made up of athletes who have lettered in a particular sport. One of the privileges of being in the club is being able to purchase a Varsity Club jacket. Also, we have many fund raising activities that profit our members and individuals. Our main project each year is to purchase a gift that will benefit the athletic department. Our sponsors are Mary Tolley, Lucy Harris, and Plicky Williams. Our officers are: President, Veronica Franklin; Vice-President, Karen Gillispie, Secretary, Penny Cabiness; Treasurer, Andy Wingfield; and Reporter, Berneta Moore.

The organization known as the National Honor Society is made up of students here at A.C.H.S. with a 3.25 average or above. These members are chosen from qualities of scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

The induction ceremony for this school year was filled with suspense as officers and other members of the club wandered through the student body tapping each of the new faces invited to join this prosperous club.

To help the new members get settled into the club, a covered dish dinner was held in the school cafeteria; in December, all members were invited to go Christmas carolling and then attend a party held at the home of Mrs. Mary Holland.

Some of the goals of the club were to make contributions to the Patrick Henry Boys' Plantation and towards a student attending Presidential Classroom. This year the N.H.S. sponsored and issued the Mary Grey Holland Scholarship of $50.00.

Q. "From whence cometh the future Broadway and television stars?"

A. "From ACHS!"

Well anything's possible with a group under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Sweet, Drama Club sponsor. The Drama Club is in its second year of existance at Appomattox County High and every week, a few new faces are seen at the Drama Club meetings. And why not, with such classical greats as "The Odd Couple" in its past history?

This year, the Drama Club's main production was "They'd Hang You In Nashville", a comedy by William Gleason, which was a big success. Along with the major production, the Drama Club presented several skits for school members throughout the year.

So folks, if you really like to "get in the act" and you really like to "play around" hop on the bandwagon with the Appomattox County High School Drama Club. It's shore to be a hit!

Newspaper Club

Greg gets everything straight.

Mike gets papers ready to go.

This year as in the past the Newspaper Club and Mrs. Sweet's journalism class, will work together to publish the Raider Reporter. The journalism class writes the majority of the news items; the Newspaper Club takes care of the business aspects, layout, and circulation. The paper cannot be published, however, without Mrs. Frey's Steno II Class which types all items for layout.

The primary objectives of the club include continued improvement of newswriting, editing, and layout. Later this year, the club hopes to have the Raider Reporter evaluated by the Virginia High School League.

The WACHS Radio Show

The WACHS Radio Show came back in full swing this year with Darrell Puckett, Ronnie Richardson, Marzetta Hodnett, Laurie Selz, Cathie Tanner, Donna Volture, and Merry Wright announcing the daily morning announcements.

As a result of the interest shown by the student body in the "Morning Announcements," these seniors were chosen by principal Donald L. Armentrout at the '77 school year.

When school resumed operation for the '77-'78 school year the "Radio Show" was organized. Darrell Puckett was chosen as leader of the group. A tenative schedule was drawn up for the year.

The announcements were delivered each morning to the student body with great success.

W.A.C.H.S.

With the previous year's success of the WACHS Radio Show, the series came back to life with the exciting news stories and events of the Raiders.

This year, however, the program was worked differently. The announcers were composed primarily of Mrs. Sweet's Journalism class. From the class, there were four groups of announcers. These announcers being: Walker Covington, Wesley Crabtree, Willis Fleshman, Darrell Puckett, Dave Williams, Cheryl Adams, Brenda Coleman, Marie Fraley, Karen Gillispie, Molly Handy, Sheryl Martin, Tamara Nash, Pam O'Brien, Beth Smoak, and Donna Volture.

The series was brought to the public in 30 consecutive broadcasts. Each week the show was aired from 3:00 to 3:30 p.m. at WTTX. The sponsors again were WESTVACO.

The Appomattox County High Band played for pep assemblies, football games, and various parades during the school year. The parades included the Appomattox Railroad Festival, Homecoming, and Christmas parades in Appomattox and South Boston.

The band participated in Band Day Activities at the University of Richmond this year and had a great time. They gave a public Christmas concert as well as concerts within the school system. The Christmas concert was recorded by radio station WTTX. Other activities included spring concerts, band festival participation, and school graduation.

The Majorettes have come a long way since their sponsor, Mrs. Alvis, took over. The squad goes to all football games to twirl on sidelines and during the half time show. They participate in the State Field Day, parades in town and out of town. By adding school spirit, the majorettes participate in pep rallies. This past summer they sold cards to raise money for new uniforms. They were very successful in doing so. The co-captains are Susan Campbell and Wendy MacIntosh. The other five girls who make up the squad are Debbie Baldwin, June Harris, Missy Harvey, Leslie King, and Tammy Womack.

The Color Guard

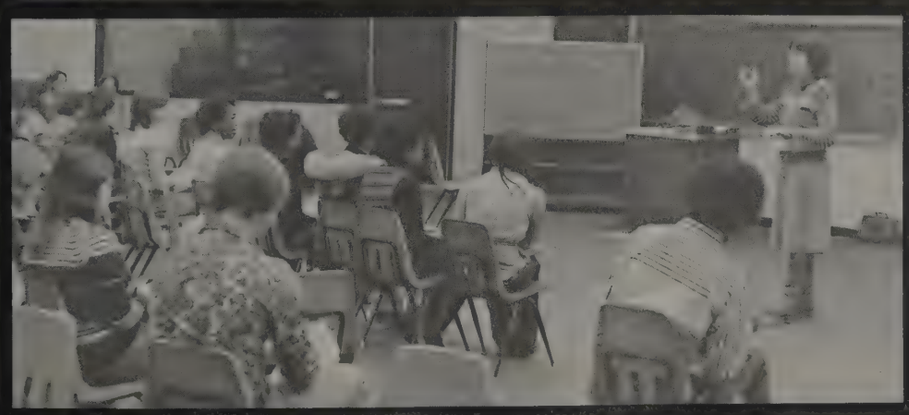
The Color Guard is a new addition to this year's band program. It consists of a rifle corps, a flag corps, and an honor guard. Donna Volturo, a senior, is captain of the Color Guard. Much time and hard work has been spent during the summer and on after school practices in order to entertain Appomattox with an outstanding Color Guard. They have participated in many activities such as football half time shows for both home and away games. They were in the Railroad Festival parade, the Homecoming and Christmas parade.

There are twenty girls in the entire Color Guard. They are looking forward to expanding their units and presentations for an even better performance.

Concert Choir

Chorus gives students opportunities to experience various types of music. Students are encouraged to become familiar with the creative processes of music as well as learn performing techniques. Various presentations are made throughout the year including a Christmas program and Spring concert.

Students are admitted into the Concert Choir on the basis of their musical ability. Much hard work is behind every performance and many presentations are given for community and school activities. The group dresses in snappy attire and puts enthusiasm into every performance.



Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America . . . is a Vocational Education Student Organization at A.C.H.S. Their theme for the year was entitled "We've Only Just Begun." The total membership of the chapter was seventy-eight. The Appomattox Senior Chapter participates on the federation, state and national level. The degrees of Achievements which can be obtained are the Junior, Chapter and State Degrees.

The Appomattox Senior Chapter works on certain major projects every year. These are: The Five-County Fair, Homecoming Float, Railroad Day, Federation Skating Party, Federation All-Day Leadership Conference, Crafts for Disadvantaged Children, FBLA–FHA–HERO Christmas Dinner, Vocational Education Week, and old new officer supper.

The Appomattox Chapter has a federation officer and a state officer, Cheryl Elliott is Federation President and Mary Dyess is State Secretary. They stay involved with committee work, service projects and carrying out the program of work. This year for the first time the Appomattox County Federation held an all-day leadership conference for FHA members. At the conference they learned leadership qualities and to work together.

The state Program of Work divides itself into four areas which are: "Individual," "Family," "Community" and "Job and Careers". Interest topics are: "Family Involvement," "A Helping Hand," "Your Values Show," "It's A Big World," "Get Ready!" "The Young Consumer of Today and Tomorrow," and "Will the Real Me, Stand Up".

It's not all that bad.

Appomattox County High 4-H Club

The Appomattox County High 4-H Club is a club with the main goal of fostering the personal development of each member. Under the guidance of the local county extention staff the club meets once monthly to carry out a planned activity which is designed to help reach the main goal and to keep in tune with the 4-H motto—"To make the Best Better".

Some of the purposes of the Science Club are:

To develop an understanding of scientific principles and to apply these principles to everyday living. To develop scientific attitudes and to appreciate the contributions of science to our way of life. To encourage projects of varying complexity so as to offer problems that will challenge and stimulate a wide range of student abilities and interests.

Officers: President, Rick Guill; Vice-President, Donald Scruggs; Secretary-Treasurer, Benny Harvey; Reporter, Wesley Crabtree; Sponsor, John Hudson.

Many hands seem to be necessary for this experiment. Zoom Lenses?

Brightening everyday school life with splashes of color leaves us indebted to the Art Club. This prosperous organization surpassed its own record by placing 2nd in this year's Homecoming Float competition. Though the club participated in the Railroad Day Festivities, it plans to become more involved in community activities, as well as involving the community in artistic ones.

Officers:
President—Bessie Hash
Vice-President—Michael Carter
Secretary—Joan Eagle
Treasurer—Becky Simmons
SCA Representative—Shirley Kress
Reporter—Evelyn Webb
Parliamentarian—Tony Smith

Ricky and Bobby enjoy playing scrabble.

For the past six years the aura of the Roman Empire has been kept alive through the efforts of Liberi Caesaris. This organization also keeps abreast of current activities such as participating in the Homecoming parade and co-sponsoring Foreign Language Week. As a special project the Latin Club helped to sponsor a child to Camp Easter Seal.

Highlighting the year of 1977, eight members of the club, their sponsor Miss Claudine O'Brien and Mrs. Lucille Ferrell flew to Rome, Italy.

A Bit of Foreign Culture

It was truly Liberty's Last Minute on the Spanish Club float as the fearless (Raider) matador defeated the bull. That float claimed first prize in the Homecoming parade . That achievement started the club out on a good foot. Bad weather and icy roads foiled plans of carolling at local nursing homes; however, among other activities, the club jointly participated in Foreign Language Week with the Latin Club.

Club and class members alike tried their hands at Spanish and Mexican food for a dinner featuring a presentation from the students that traveled to Mexico over Easter vacation.

The latest addition to the club was Marcella McKay the new sponsor.

Officers: President, Laurie Selz; Vice-President, Teresa Lively; Secretary, Margie Colemann; Treasurer, Carol Campbell; SCA Representative, Missy Harvey.

Batter up! Margie prepares to swing.

1978 Traveler Staff

Three more deadlines?!

Linda is always busy.

Yours Annually

Picture day has its rewards.

Loretta is taking her "catnap"

A typical day in the "pit" starts at 2:15 with the yearbook "zoo" crew, Laurie Selz—editor, Linda George—assistant editor, Rindy Lawson—business manager, David Eye, Bernice McIvor, Loretta Lettner, Cindy Roach, Donna Hodges, Robin Spiggle, and John Jimison, under the supervision of the "zoo keeper" Brenda Waldron, checking in for a busy day of hard work.

What follows may be surprising to the rest of the student body who think that all we do is "take pictures". We spend our days and occasional nights writing copy, cropping pictures, typing copy, interviewing people, drawing layouts, fitting copy, creating headlines and captions, and many other things to meet our deadlines.

Summer workshops at Longwood and excursions to Elon College prove successful in teaching the staff the principles of putting a yearbook together.

Bernice gets down to work.

The Weather Forecaster . . . John Jimison.

GRASS ROOTS

The end — no this is where it all starts, taking what we've learned and going from there. How do grass roots fit into the picture? The question is one we've got to ask ourselves. The future may find us in a setting far different from this one, will we change or will we hold on to what we are? It is true that we've got to continue to grow and learn from our mistakes, but deep down is where it counts.

We've heard a lot lately about "roots" and how they affect a person's life. Grass roots, however, are different, those who have known it say it's special, those who have not always try to find it. Grass roots is more than where you came from, it's as much a part of you as a branch is to a tree, even if it's cut off it's still part of the tree.

"Okay, sit down," says Mr. Hudson.

Brenda Higginbotham, Gloria Bailey, and Allan Basemore are working hard on their English assignment.

Eyes on your copy not your fingers.

One more of these questions and I'm leaving.

Y'all can talk but I'm going to study.

U.S.A.

Lynn Reynolds never takes notes.

And this is our historic town.

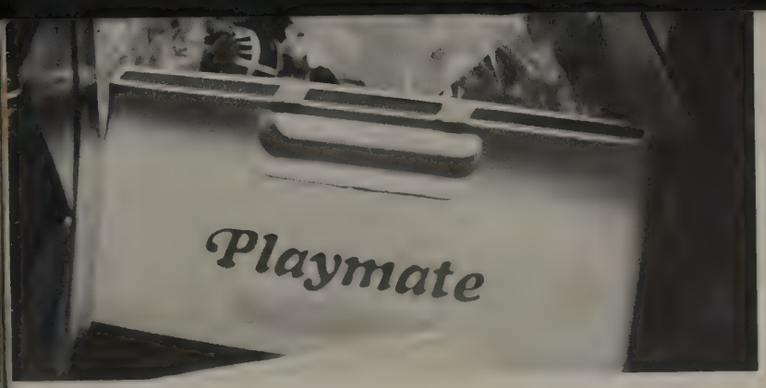
Vickie Duff takes shorthand notes.

Is Kim studying or day dreaming?

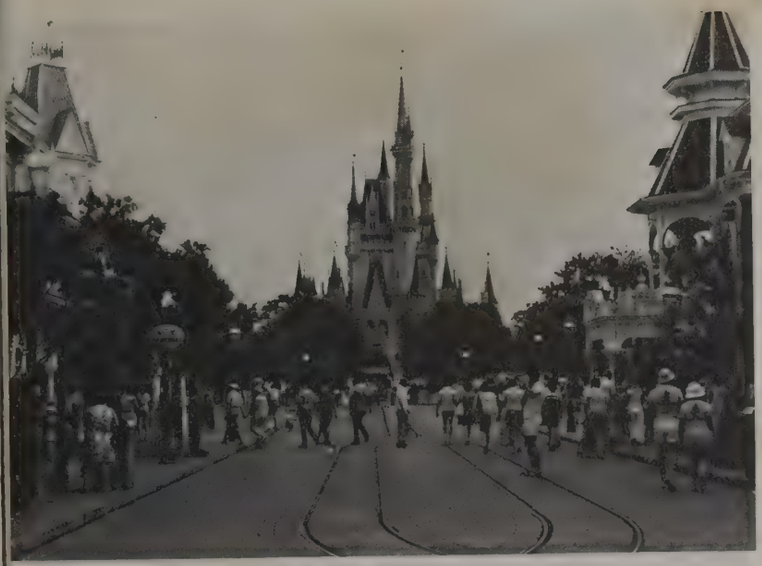
The "down home" life may not mean much to us now but some day we might find ourselves wishing we were still a part of it. Grass roots, it is indeed something to be proud to be a part of.

Miss Henry is camera shy.

Now if only I can remember this on the test.



A necessity on the trip.



The streets of Magic Kingdom.

FLORIDA . . . USA

Everyone wants a picture with this jolly fellow.

Is this Polly Carter's twin?

After a year of hard work and determination, the class of 78 finally made their dream of going to Florida a reality.

Wednesday, May 17th, two buses from the James River Bus Line Service came to take those Seniors who had long awaited this trip to their destination . . . Florida. Although they were a little late arriving at the school, everyone waited patiently, but with great excitement for the enjoyment that was to come. The buses pulled off with our seniors and for the first time the underclassmen realized what school would be like without the Seniors of 78.

In Florida, everyone had a fabulous time shopping at the Buena Vista Mall. Disney World was exciting also with "Space Mountain" being its most devastating attraction. A rainstorm ruined the activities that were planned for the evening. Wet'n Wild and Sea World were fun but the Red Carpet Inn was the main attraction because there, the Seniors settled down to a nice quiet evening around the pool and a very comfortable night in their beds.

Although the seniors ran into a few problems along the way with the buses, there was nothing that couldn't be solved and it even added to the memories that will always linger on . . . the unforgettable memories of the Senior Class of 78.

NIGHTS ON . . .

Elmer's glue helps Broadway sparkle.

The evening of April 29th was a very exciting evening for all the A.C.H.S. upperclassmen who attended the Junior-Senior prom. The theme, "Nights on Broadway" was carried out by decorations that created an image of being on Broadway.

The Junior class chose Glen Duff and Donna Volturo to reign as King and Queen over the prom festivities. Rindy Lawson and Sheena Watts were princesses and Monroe Dyess and Gary Tanner were princes.

The band "Crimson" entertained the crowd with a melody of hits. Although they weren't the band the Juniors voted on, they turned out to be "alright".

The refreshments were delicious and everyone enjoyed nibbling on them between dancing. The Junior class had their work cut out for them to make prom '78 a success and the senior class congratulated them on a fantastic job.

Lockers transform to New York skyline.

DeeAnn and Gail piecing things together.

Juniors prepare for the big night.

BROADWAY

Jay Franklin keeps his trademark despite formal occasions.

Jerry Womack and June Harris wait in line to have their picture taken.

Formal wear adds beauty to the prom.

Delicious cake was served while the band took a break.

Rock -N-

Pianist Polly Carter literally rocks and rolls the piano!

Rockin' and boppin' with "Johnny Sapphire and the Gemtones."

The six weeks of practice did not last as long as everyone expected. Actually, they turned out to be just adequate for the subtle changes that had to take place. During that time the stage took on the appearance of an enigma of the 50's, the "pop shop." Those seniors who were not typecasted, easily assumed and developed their roles.

The story was of the seemingly doomed romance of Corndoggie and Betsy-Lou. Due to extenuating circumstances, and contributing to a very happy ending, they were reunited over a strawberry malted with the echoes of "sha-la-la-la-la-las" and "bop-she-wa-was" filling the air.

Figments of Betsy Lou's imagination, Mannfred, Corndoggie, and Duffy sing what it's like "to be alo-one, alone on Prom night."

Roll

Director Joyce Sweet does what she can for Darrell Puckett.

Wesley Crabtree shines as Johnny Sapphire.

Dedicated stagehand Rose Glenn removes the remains of a long, hard rehearsal.

It was a season of mishaps, injuries, and just plain bad luck, yet the dedicated players continued to give their best, although their records which slipped to 4-5 for the Raiders and 6-7 for the Raiderettes were hardly indicative of the kind of ball they played. The statistics proved that, in the case of the Raiderettes, defense was their weakness with the team doing better than their opponents in every category except errors.

The story was the same in baseball with the injuries and tough luck adding strikes against the team. It was ironic to note that, although the Raiders didn't make it into the tournament, Appomattox received more all-district honors than any other school. First team all-district honors went to Andy Wingfield (catcher), Buddy McFadden (OF), and Freddie Mitchell (DH). Jay Franklin made second team all district as outfielder. At the spring sports banquet more honors were presented. The MVP award was given to Andy Wingfield; Best Outfielder — Buddy McFadden; and Most Improved Infielder — Frankie Tanner.

The Raiderettes played two tournament games and received a second team all-district honor which went to Connie Murray for outfield. The other eight starters were named to the honorable mention all-district team. Five trophies were presented to the following Raiderettes: Connie Murray — MVP; Berneta Moore — Best Offensive Player; Annette Carter — Best Defensive Player; Johanna Belter — Most Improved; Susan Handy — Rookie of the Year.

ACHS Golf Team: Up To Par

'78 Golf Team

The Appomattox Raider Golf team had a very successful season, winning 10, and only losing 3 matches. Captain R. L. Harris, along with Ronnie Robinson, Reed Johnson, and Gordon Lawson led the Raiders while Jimmy Roach and Ernie Chenault added needed support. One of the highlights of the year was in a match with the RRD, (Rustburg Red Devils) when R. L. Harris, scored a hole in one.

For the second time in two years the Raiders qualified for Regional competition by placing second in District Play.

The Raiders having a season well over "par", are looking forward to an even better season next year.

Boys' Track '78

Running with the perseverance of Wiley Coyote, the ACHS boys track team developed a lot of character during the 1978 season, finishing with a record of 0-5. In order to promote interest in participating in more than one event, Coach Ray Archer organized a pentathaton and a decathalon. The pentathaton, a five event contest, was won by Robert Harding. The overall winner of the decathalon was Andrae Spencer.

The girls track team showed a few more "Roadrunner Characteristics, ending the season with a record of 3-4. They were also able to send Mary Franklin to the state track meet, where she finished third. Coaches, Sam Martin and Ray Archer, seemed to be pleased on the whole with the progress of their teams.

Mary Franklin – ACHS' representative to State track meet.

At 2:00 A.M. . . . . .

on March 24, a group of twenty two students and two chaperones left for Washington National Airport where they boarded a plane and headed for Mexico City.

The eight days and nights were spent touring historical sights such as the Aztec Pyramids, The Basilica of Guadelupe, and the Museum of Anthropology in the mornings. The afternoons were spent shopping in the open markets, sunbathing on the hotel roof, and exploring the city. The evenings were highlighted by trips to the movies, discos and subways. The trip proved to be educational and entertaining for everyone. Many of the students impressed with the guapo people plan to return next year.

Class Day '78 . . .

Class day 78, began with the standing of the underclassmen, as the Seniors, in the form of blue and grey streamers, marched into the auditorium. All looked on with a mixture of emotion, as the Senior class president, Ronnie Richardson, started the class day activities. Emotions stayed on the rise as the class history was read by Karen Gillaspie. Next came the class motto, which was, "To strive is to achieve", this was read by Marzetta Hodnett. The Seniors were able to show off their musical abilities, as the class song, "Memories", written and composed by Roxie Martin, was sung. All waited patiently, with a twinge of anxiety, as the scholarships and awards were given, and those students recognized. Then came the giving of the gifts to those people who had become very special to the Seniors, Mr. Battle, Mrs. Beasley, Mr. McLean and Mr. Armontrout. Next came the long awaited reading of the last will and testament by Jay Franklin and Judy Ayers.

After many laughs and a few tears, it was time for class day to end. As the alma mater was sung and the recessional started, both Senior and underclassmen knew things would never be quite the same.

Graduates listen intently

TO STRIVE IS TO ACHIEVE was the motto of the graduating class of 1978. On June 9th, the graduates felt within themselves that pride of achievement. Starting with the first grade, each individual strove to take another step higher. Graduation wasn't the end of the ladder but the beginning.

Friday was given to the seniors as their day. Each awoke that cloudy morning with the sad sensation that today was their last day as Raiders. But as the day brightened, so did the graduates. By 8:00 o'clock that evening, each senior was full of excitement.

Commencement exercises were conducted by senior class president, Ronnie Richardson. David Eye, Valedictorian and Glen Duff, Salutatorian, realizing this would be their last time together as a class, made their speeches wishing their fellow classmates good luck in the future. Honorable Dan Daniels, representative of the 5th congressional district, was the guest speaker.

After the awarding of diplomas, the graduates of 1978 were filled with mixed emotions. Each realized their high school days had come to an end. But each looked to the future remembering — to strive is to achieve.
